Juna Koo, a professional dance artist, choreographer, dance educator, and Movement Analyst. Stepping into the world of dance as a graduate from the Hong Kong Academy for Performing Arts with First-class Bachelor of Fine Arts (Honours) Degree, majoring in Modern Dance. A year after, Ms Koo obtained her Teaching Diploma from the Royal Academy of Dancing. In recognition of these accomplishments, she was awarded twice with the Hong Kong Jockey Club Overseas Music and Dance Fund Scholarship, which opened the opportunity for her to complete the Master of Fine Arts Degree with noted Dance artists -- Ms. Viola Farber and Ms. Sara Rudner -- at Sarah Lawrence College in New York. During the time in Hong Kong, she contributed her talent and knowledge as a dance educator and choreographer for modern dance and ballet . However, her passion for dance did not cease and continued to upgrade her professional knowledge. As a firm believer of Laban Movement Analysis, Ms Koo understand movement to be a consequential manifestation of the bond between body-mind and movement; thus, Ms Koo became one of the few qualified practitioners of Laban/Bartenieff Movement Analyst in Hong Kong.
